

Where does the water come from?

River Lee Navigation Old Ford Lock

Most of the water here comes from the River Lea, the Lee Navigation which intertwines with it, and from tributaries including the River Stort. There is a large catchment area (shaded)

Old Ford Lock lies just below the junction with the Hertford Union Canal, so a small amount of the water may come from as far away as the Grand Union Canal near Rickmansworth

For other locations go to canalrivertrust.org.uk/water-sources